THE GRECIAN 2016
TABLE OF CONTENTS

SORORITIES
- Alpha Chi Omega................................................................. 1
- Alpha Delta Pi................................................................. 2
- Alpha Omicron Phi.......................................................... 3
- Alpha Xi Delta................................................................. 4
- Chi Omega........................................................................ 5
- Delta Delta Delta.............................................................. 6
- Gamma Phi Beta.............................................................. 7
- Kappa Alpha Theta............................................................ 8
- Kappa Delta........................................................................ 9
- Kappa Kappa Gamma........................................................ 10
- Phi Mu............................................................................. 10
- Pi Beta Phi........................................................................ 12
- Zeta Tau Alpha................................................................. 13

FRATERNITIES
- Alpha Gamma Rho............................................................ 14
- Alpha Sigma Phi.............................................................. 15
- Alpha Tau Omega............................................................ 16
- Beta Theta Pi.................................................................... 17
- Delta Kappa Epsilon......................................................... 18
- Delta Tau Delta................................................................. 19
- Delta Chi........................................................................... 20
- Farm House...................................................................... 21
- Kappa Alpha..................................................................... 22
- Kappa Alpha Psi.............................................................. 23
- Kappa Sigma..................................................................... 24
- Lambda Chi Alpha............................................................ 25
- Phi Gamma Delta............................................................. 26
- Phi Kappa Tau................................................................. 27
- Pi Kappa Alpha............................................................... 28
- Pi Kappa Phi................................................................. 29
- Sigma Alpha Epsilon....................................................... 30
- Sigma Chi........................................................................ 31
- Sigma Nu.......................................................................... 32
- Sigma Phi Epsilon........................................................... 33
- Sigma Pi........................................................................... 34
- Sigma Tau Gamma........................................................... 36
- Tau Kappa Epsilon............................................................ 36
- Theta Chi......................................................................... 37

EXTRA GOODS
- Sorority Recruitment ....................................................... 38
- Fraternity Recruitment .................................................... 39
- Shows............................................................................... 40
- The Staff.......................................................................... 41
The women of the Gamma Epsilon chapter of Alpha Chi Omega celebrated 69 years at Oklahoma State University this semester. They hosted a successful philanthropy event and strengthened their sisterhood this spring.

In April they hosted the second annual “Pizza Pie with Alpha Chi”. They had pizza and desserts at their chapter house and Greek members came to support their philanthropies. Alpha Chi Omega’s national philanthropy is Domestic Violence Awareness. Their local philanthropy is Wings of Hope. Wings of Hope, is a family crisis center in Stillwater that strives to end the cycle of domestic violence.

The event raised $5,400 dollars. Ninety percent of the proceeds went to Domestic Violence Awareness and 10 percent went to Wings of Hope.

“It means supporting the fight against domestic violence and bringing awareness to a cause that deserves more attention,” Meredith Messerli, chapter president.

Alpha Chi Omega had several sisterhood events this semester. Their favorite was when they all went to the movies together the night before Greek Discovery Day.

In the future the women of Alpha Chi Omega hope to continue their success in academics, philanthropy, and sisterhood.
The women of the Alpha Omicron chapter of Alpha Delta Pi had a successful spring semester. They hosted a philanthropy event, welcomed nine new members and became more involved on campus.

Alpha Delta Pi hosted their second annual Pop Tab and Drop it dance off event. Nine fraternities performed dance routines and $2,200 was raised for the Ronald McDonald House. Fraternity and sorority members bought tickets to watch the groups perform and support the philanthropy. Alpha Delta Pi was thrilled to see how many organizations supported

Alpha Delta Pi participated in continuous open bidding this semester. They had nine new members join their chapter. They also saw members achieve in academics and on campus. Members gained leadership positions in various campus organizations.

Their sisterhood has become more rooted this semester and is focused on compassion and caring. Alpha Delta Pi’s sisterhood has been the basis for their growth in numbers, leadership, scholarship, and philanthropy. As they look to the future, they are excited to see what new opportunities their members will find within Alpha Delta Pi as well as on campus as a whole. They look forward to seeing members continue to actively grow the Alpha Omicron chapter of Alpha Delta Pi and excel in leadership, scholarship and academics.
The women of the Omega Sigma chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi have had an outstandingly strong spring semester. Between awards, philanthropy, and sisterhood events, the members have a lot to remember and be proud of from this semester.

Their annual philanthropy event Strike Out Arthritis was a huge hit this year and was hosted at MoJo’s Grill. When students arrived, they could bowl, make friends, and take part in helping Alpha Omicron Pi’s philanthropy. The event was a huge success, and the chapter ended up raising a total of $5,642 for the Arthritis Foundation. The Arthritis Foundation leads the arthritis community in accumulating resources, gathering beneficial information, and providing access to care.

With the sponsors, MoJo’s Grill, and all members working together, the event was extremely memorable. The women had an incredible time bringing the community together to work for a cause so special to their hearts and they are looking forward to continuing their efforts towards their philanthropy by working on their fall event, Spaghetti for Soldiers.

Also this semester, all members took part in an exciting sisterhood event at Main Event in Oklahoma City. There, the members were able to bond over bowling, laser tag, a ropes course, and arcade games. The women loved the time they were able to spend getting to know each other better and create new memories. They are all truly proud of their sisterhood and support each other.

The chapter also received significant notes from headquarters this year. The Omega Sigma chapter was awarded Ruby Level, which exemplifies the chapter’s excellence in philanthropy, sisterhood, and ritual over the past year. After meeting and maintaining quota during recruitment and with every chapter member meeting their required service hours, they were easily awarded this top level of accomplishment.

The women of Alpha Omicron Pi are excited for summer but are more excited to return next fall, prepared for recruitment and another successful semester.
Since recolonizing the Epsilon Omicron chapter in 2015, the women of Alpha Xi Delta have been hard at work. They participated in their first Formal Recruitment and welcomed a new pledge class in the fall of 2015. They were thrilled to welcome even more women to their chapter through Continuous Open Bidding during the spring semester.

Alpha Xi Delta’s philanthropy is Autism Speaks, which is an autism advocacy organization that sponsors autism research, raises awareness, and conducts outreach activated designed for families, governments and the public.

Alpha Xi Delta also hosted Light It Up Blue for Autism Awareness Day. They hosted a guest speaker and held a bake sale. Each Greek Chapter was given a Light It Up Blue sign to put in their yard to show support for the event.

The women of Alpha Xi Delta also took part in campus wide philanthropies. They participated in Cowboy-Thon and received the award for outstanding sorority for their philanthropic efforts.

Alpha Xi Delta hosted numerous sisterhood events for their members this semester. Their favorite was ice skating as a welcome back event at the beginning of the semester.

They are honored to be a part of the Greek Community and Oklahoma State and are looking forward to the next school year.
The Chi Omega chapter at Oklahoma State excels in academics, involvement, and Greek life activities, and this semester is no exception. They have been the top chapter in grades the past 21 consecutive semesters at Oklahoma State. But these women aren’t just spending all of their time studying, they did great in shows and philanthropy this semester.

Seven of the top 10 freshman women on campus are in Chi Omega.

One of the most important aspects of Chi Omega culture is their service to others and philanthropy involvement.

They partner with the Stillwater Humane Society and Early Head Start, providing women the opportunity to give back to our community. As a chapter they completed over 2,800 hours of community service just on a local level. On a National level they support the “Make A Wish” Foundation, as we successfully raised over $47,000 just in the last year.

The Chi Omega chapter has a lot to be proud about, but they always seem to be more concerned in looking for ways to help others than themselves.

In the future, the women are looking forward to formal fall recruitment and homecoming in the fall. They will also host their annual “Chi O Wish Week” next semester.
DELTA DELTA DELTA

The women of the Phi Upsilon chapter of Delta Delta Delta had an exciting spring semester. They hosted a philanthropy event, participated in spring sing, intramurals, and held multiple sisterhood events.

Tri Delta hosted Art with a Heart in Oklahoma City with the OU chapter of Delta Delta Delta. The event was held at OU Children’s Hospital and proceeds benefitted the hospital. Patients painted original art pieces and it was sold to raise the funds. Tri Delta purchased a painting and it is displayed in their house.

The women of Tri Delta were paired with the men of Beta Upsilon Chi for Spring Sing and their theme was “Breakups”. They said they enjoyed participating in the show and working with the men of Beta Upsilon Chi, because they have never worked with them before. Tri Delta was paired with the men of Kappa Alpha Order. They said they had a blast playing indoor soccer, bas-

The women were proud to have hosted multiple sisterhood events for their members. They had monthly get sisterhood events called Delta’s only, they plat BINGO and board games.

They had a big movie night the night before Greek Discovery Day and enjoyed insomnia cookies and several movies at the Tri Delta house. They went to Stillwater’s new Roller Skate Rink for this semester’s chapter retreat.

They are looking forward to fall recruitment and to welcome all the potential new members into their home to show them what it is like to be Greek at Oklahoma State. They can’t wait for the most exciting day of the year, Bid Day!
Gamma Phi Beta had a wonderful year at Oklahoma State. They held two philanthropy events in the spring semester: Crescent Classic and Cokes for Kasey. The Crescent Classic was held at the Colvin and supported their national philanthropy, Girls on The Run and included a soccer and basketball tournament where many fraternities competed to win. The events were successful and they were able to donate a generous amount of money to Girls On The Run thanks to the support of its members and the Stillwater community. Annie Olson, Gamma Phi Beta’s Philanthropy Chairwomen is grateful for the opportunity the organization has given her. “Although it is a lot of work, there is no more rewarding position to me in Gamma Phi Beta then being in charge of philanthropy,” she said. “It gives me the opportunity to raise money for an organization that we are all very passionate about, and I love putting it all together!”

In April, Gamma Phi Beta hosted their final philanthropy event Cokes for Kasey.

This will the second year the event will be held. The event is to gain support for its late member, Kasey Waychoff. Members of her pledge class hosted Cokes for Kasey last year and hope to keep her legacy alive for many years to come.

The organization feels lucky to be a part of a community of students with a passion to give back.

They have members involved in campus-wide philanthropy events including Dance Marathon, Big Event and Relay for Life.

Gamma Phi Beta was founded upon Love, Labor, Learning and Loyalty and the organization shows these values every day and believes it inspires members to greatness. From completing a simple favor to comforting one another through a hard time the organization is proud of where they are today.
The Beta Zeta chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta was founded at Oklahoma State University on September 5, 1919. A chapter that provides a place for every member to shine unapologetically, Theta encourages its members to be leading women through high scholarship, leadership, service and personal excellence.

“We love our members for exactly who they are, and want them feel comfortable, valued, and loved no matter what,” said Samantha Robben, the chapter president.

“Theta really is a special place that challenges girls to become the absolute best version of themselves.”

All 226 active members take pride in their chapter’s campus involvement. Theta women are actively involved on campus with FRC, JGL, SGA, CowboyThon, relay for life, speakers board, Student Foundation, CEAT student council, CEAT ambassadors, Business Student council, CASNR Ambassadors and more!

It was a successful spring semester for the Beta Zeta chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta at OSU.

The women of Kappa Alpha Theta were paired with the men of Beta Theta Pi for Varsity Revue 2016, winning 1st place Overall, Best Choreography, Best Vocals, People’s choice, Best Theme and Best Song Choice. The Beta Zeta chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta is proud of their many accomplishments over the last year.

“After winning VR we have a very high overall chapter morale,” Robben said. “We are excited to see what this year will bring.”

The chapter looks forward to Formal Fall Recruitment in August, which will be led by, recruitment head, Savannah Smith. Theta is looking to increase involvement and leadership within the chapter and the Greek community.
Kappa Delta was the first established sorority of Oklahoma State’s Panhellenic Council. The Nu chapter was founded on Aug. 9, 1919, and have been developing an outstanding resume on our campus ever since.

Kappa Delta has always done a great job raising money for their philanthropies, Prevent Child Abuse America, and Wings of Hope. Prevent Child Abuse America is a program that advocates for policies, legislations and programs that promote healthy child development, prevention of child abuse and help for those who may be victims of child abuse. Wings of Hope is a shelter for any victims of abuse can go for a safe environment of refuge.

During the spring semester, they raised an impressive $37,852 during Shamrock, their annual softball tournament. With the money they raised during the tournament, they donated 80% ($30,282) of it to their local philanthropy, Wings of Hope, and 20% ($7570) went to Prevent Child Abuse America. In addition to raising money for their philanthropies, they continued to raise money for other chapters and organizations on campus.

The chapter won 2nd place in Alpha Tau Omega’s Gatorfest, and raised money for Oklahoma State’s annual Dance Marathon, Cowboython.

The Nu Chapter is so dedicated to their philanthropy that along with the money they raised for their local and national organizations, they had 22 members go to the food bank in Oklahoma City. They also had 6 different troops of Girl Scouts come to campus to sell cookies.

They won Best Costumes in Varsity Revue. They were paired with the men of Alpha Gamma Rho for Spring Sing which took place during Mom’s Day in April.

The chapter recently had a dinner exchange with the men of Kappa Sigma. They are paired with them for next year’s homecoming.

Kappa Delta is a sorority that is not only proud to be a part of OSU, but they are a sorority that OSU is proud to have. Consistently achieving their goals with philanthropy and shows, they work hard and they contribute to making out Greek life as great as it is. They are looking forward to another successful academic semester. They are excited to continue working hard to make their chapter great.
This semester, Kappa Kappa Gamma has done another amazing job in the local and Greek community here at Oklahoma State. They have excelled in philanthropy, academics, and shows; placing 3rd in the Greek Varsity Revue show.

This semester the women of the Delta Sigma chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma hosted the Kappa Color Run, and proceeds supported their philanthropies. Their national philanthropy is Reading is Fundamental, which is an organization that helps provide literary resources to help students discover a joy for reading. Their local philanthropy is the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation.

Their chapter also made some improvements this year by creating a newsletter to make communication about the chapter easier to obtain. Kappa Kappa Gamma is also proud to say they have 3 members nominated for individual Greek awards this year, and having Althea Wright inducted into the Greek hall of fame. The Kappa Kappa Gamma chapter has had another game changing semester, and the Greek community is lucky to have a chapter that continues to evolve into something better.

The women of Kappa Kappa Gamma are looking forward to formal fall recruitment. They are paired with the men of Sigma Nu for homecoming and are excited to have the chance to participate in America’s greatest homecoming.
This semester, the women of Phi Mu continued to strive for excellence in service, friendship and involvement. The chapter began the spring semester by performing in Varsity Revue with the men of Kappa Sigma. Phi Mu had six members on the Varsity Revue Steering Committee, and member Laurel Conley was awarded best female director. Phi Mu also has two members on the Spring Sing Steering Committee, and they performed with the men of Pi Kappa Alpha.

These women excel in the classroom and on campus. Member Kate Finley was awarded Top Five Senior in accounting. Furthermore, Phi Mu currently has eight members on Order of Omega, including Jordan Zandler who serves as the secretary. Order of Omega is an organization dedicated to honoring Greek leaders.

Members of the Epsilon Nu chapter can be found across the globe. Member Michelle MacLean is at Disneyland completing her internship with Disney this semester. Sarah Eddings is also abroad doing a Semester at Sea where she’ll visit 15 ports around the world.

This semester members continued to raise awareness for the Children’s Miracle Network Hospitals (CMNH). In March, Phi Mu hosted its annual Miracle Mac fundraiser. The event took place at the Phi Mu house where Panera mac and cheese and Insomnia cookies were provided. This year Miracle Mac raised $4,700 for CMNH.

Phi Mu’s constant effort to better the Stillwater community and OSU campus was shown during the spring semester. The members of Phi Mu aim to continue growing as well-rounded, spiritual and intellectual women.
The Pi Beta Phi sorority at Oklahoma State University had another extremely successful semester on campus. From involvement on campus to philanthropy they continue to be a very well rounded group of women appreciated all across campus.

Their annual popular Wing Ching Ching philanthropy event was held this spring with the agenda of supporting Pi Beta Phi’s national philanthropy, Read. Lead. Achieve. Which works hard to achieve greater literacy rates among children all across the nation. The event was held on a Thursday evening at their chapter house, where they served wings and energy drinks.

To make the event an even more enjoyable experience they had a live DJ, and showed basketball games on projectors in the backyard. According to those who attended, the wing-eating contest was the most fun part of the evening. Philanthropy’s are always more successful with some friendly competition, right? Their philanthropy was extremely successful in raising funds for their cause.

The greatest aspect of any chapter is their members, and the Pi Beta Phi sorority has many exceptional women. This is shown in several ways but the one in particular I would like to acknowledge is their generosity, which was shown when they were recognized for being in the top 10 chapters in the country for giving to their foundation. Another great facet of their chapter is their creativity; one of their members Rylee Pittman published a children’s book this year, “A Turtle Named Sheldon”, and it has been so highly successful that she has been having book signings. Pi Beta Phi continues to serve as a great representation of the Greek community and their endeavors have easily proven so.
The women of the Alpha Upsilon chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha have had a busy semester full of philanthropic efforts, academics, shows and getting more involved on campus.

This semester, they hosted Zeta Olympics fraternity men from all of the fraternities on campus. Events began with a Pink Out Day, and all of the participants wore pink to raise awareness for Breast Cancer Awareness, Zeta’s philanthropy. The men compete in a dodgeball tournament and a Mr. Fraternity pageant, in which the men compete in a formal talent and question sections. One night competitors camped out on Zeta’s lawn to signify the hardships and discomfort of what breast cancer victims go through. Zeta had a board on their front lawn that said “I Am Camping For” and the men wrote someone’s name that they know has been affected by cancer.

Zeta’s biggest accomplishment this semester was knocking out negative PR on their social media feeds. They were able to show members how important it is to have clean social media and the impacts it can have on their member’s future.

Zeta saw an increase in moral as they all helped hold each other accountable and have seen an increase in members wanting to better themselves and the chapter.

Zeta is very diverse and members are involved in many different things on campus. As sisters, they support each other they have a strong mentorship program. Older members pass down their skills and knowledge to younger members and that in turn makes their chapter better and better. Zeta members support each other as sisters and push each other to strive for greatness. Zeta members never fail to be there for one another.

“Our genuine care for our sisters is what keeps our chapter going,” Lesllie DeRossi chapter president.
Alpha Gamma Rho was founded in 1904 at Ohio State University with the goal in mind of making better men through leadership, philanthropic, and career opportunities. The Oklahoma State University chapter was founded in 1921 and has grown to thrive. The Oklahoma State chapter of Alpha Gamma Rho has had a wonderful semester filled with hard work. This hard work has paid off in their philanthropies and various other awards.

AGR has made philanthropy a priority in their chapter and that is seen through the three different philanthropies they run each year. Heart of a Champion is a philanthropy that supports children with special needs. The AGR members are paired with local children that have special needs. They help and teach the kids to work with animals. This has been a very rewarding experience for them as they find that the children are able to connect with the animals in a life changing way. Their spring philanthropy is called Two Steps at a Time. The event consists of two-stepping, mechanical bull riding, and various other activities. Tickets are sold and all of the money raised benefits St. Francis’ Children’s Hospital.

Alpha Gamma Rho had the honor of having an Outstanding Greek New Member, two Outstanding Greek Sophomores, Outstanding Greek Man Finalists, and one Top Ten Freshmen male. AGR works hard to make better men and that is seen clearly through all of their hard work.
Alpha Sigma Phi is a chapter on Oklahoma State’s campus that was colonized in the fall of 2014. The chapter has accomplished an honorable goal of receiving a charter from nationals this semester. The ceremony of charting was held on January 30, 2016, which brought a great source of pride to the brotherhood. The men of Alpha Sigma Phi seek to live out their values, not just letting them be words on paper but through their actions. Their values each have a philanthropic partner correlating. The values and philanthropic partner include the following: Silence (The Rape, Abuse, and Incest National Network), Charity (Aware, Awake, Alive), Purity (Humane Society), Honor (Big Brothers, Big Sisters) and Patriotism (Homes for Our Troops). Recently Alpha Sigma Phi hosted two philanthropy events. The first being Chocolate for Charity, a contest between greek houses to sell hot chocolate. The winning chapter was awarded money towards their philanthropy. The second philanthropy event was Alpha Sigma Phinal Four which was a March Madness Bracket Contest where members sold Sweet Sixteen brackets for the NCAA tournament. Through both of these events, Alpha Sigma Phi was able to raise 300 dollars for The Rape, Abuse, and Incest National Network. The chapter’s motto is “To Better the Man,” by creating men of character and maintaining a high sense of integrity. Alpha Sigma Psi strives to make this something the members actively pursue. Now that Alpha Sigma Phi is chartered and an official part of Internal-fraternity Council, the chapter is looking forward to the next stages of growth.
Alpha Tau Omega was founded in 1865 at the Virginia Military Institute. ATO was the first fraternity founded on Christian principles, which has lead them to exceed in their philanthropic efforts. ATO strives to not only create a successful man, but also to better the world around them. ATO’s Oklahoma State University chapter was founded in 1947 by Edmon Low and Micheal Greenwood and has grown and thrived since then. ATO currently has ninety members and sixty of those are in-house members. Alpha Tau Omega has worked hard to grow their philanthropic efforts in order to help others and continues to work hard on everything they are involved in.

ATO has two philanthropies that are held every year. Both philanthropies benefit the Stillwater YMCA because they believe in giving back at a local level. Their Spring philanthropy is called Gatorfest. It is always a huge success and many people roll out for this two-day event. The week before this event, girls from the sororities on campus are encouraged to chalk on the sidewalks around the house, make banners, and create general excitement for Gatorfest. The first day of the event is a field day. The different sororities on OSU’s campus compete in events like tug of war, a relay race, and other fun activities. The second day of the event consists of a cookout. The cookout features a concert and cooked gator meat! Tickets are sold for this event and all money raised benefits the Stillwater YMCA.

ATO also currently has the most active undergraduate members in the history of their chapter. They have worked hard to be active on campus and within the house, all while maintaining good grades in school. ATO consists of hard workers with good morals.
The Gamma Lambda chapter of Beta Theta Pi has had an extremely exciting spring semester. Between initiation, Varsity Revue, and philanthropy projects, the men of Beta Theta Pi have been very busy, but also quite successful.

At the beginning of the semester, the chapter had the privilege of initiating 29 new members from their Alpha Gamma Fall Pledge Class. These new members are tremendously excited to enjoy their membership, continue the success of Beta Theta Pi at Oklahoma State University and beyond and further promote the fraternity’s main principles and values. In addition to their 29 new initiates, Beta Theta Pi also had an honorary initiate, the father of one of the new members.

The men of Beta Theta Pi have had a busy and enjoyable semester in regards to philanthropy as well. They hosted the 6th Annual Wellspring Concert on their lawn to raise money for the Wells Project. The event, with its enjoyable and light atmosphere, was an exciting and fun time where students gathered on Beta Theta Pi’s lawn to participate in community, eat homemade burgers, support their fellow students’ companies and listen to music.

Beta Theta Pi’s members love being able to support the Wells Project and enjoy hosting the concert on their lawn every year. T

Last winter, the men of Beta Theta Pi paired with the women of Kappa Alpha Theta for the competition of Varsity Revue. Their show, “Daydreams,” a relatable and comedic love story, was awarded first overall, as well as six other awards. They enjoyed displaying their vocals and dancing skills onstage to the community of Oklahoma State University four nights in a row. In addition, they also helped raise money for Varsity Revue’s philanthropy, United Way, as well as other local Stillwater nonprofits. The men were excited to participate in Spring Sing with the women of Pi Beta Phi during the month of April.
Delta Kappa Epsilon has been making big moves on Oklahoma State’s campus since they were founded in April 2012 by 12 men.

The Delta Kappa Epsilon National Constitution says, “The man that is most fit to join is the one who represents equal parts gentleman, scholar, and jolly good fellow.” Since being founded they have initiated over 80 members and currently have 34 active members in the organization.

Mitchell Meyer, the chapter president, was excited to serve the organization this semester and is hoping to raise more money for events than ever before. “Being given the opportunity to serve as president of this fraternity has been rewarding in ways I never would have imagined when I joined,” he said. “I have developed countless skills and strengthened my relationship with my brothers which I know will be life-long.”

Delta Kappa Epsilon hosted DKE Town Grill Down. The event included a grilling competition and cookout for the Oklahoma State community to enjoy. The event benefitted the Wounded Warrior Project, which provides services for the physical and mental well being of those who have bravely served our country.

Delta Kappa Epsilon has also been active in intramurals on campus and have teams participating in soccer, volleyball, handball, softball, and basketball. The organization has also made it a priority to support other chapters on campus and participated in Alpha Delta Pi’s Pop Tab and Drop It dance competition this semester.
The spring semester has been a monumental one for the men of the Delta Chi chapter of Delta Tau Delta at Oklahoma State. It has been a busy and exciting time for them. This year, Delta Chi was acknowledged as one of the top 25 Delta Tau Delta chapters in the United States. The fraternity’s members keep themselves heavily involved on campus, as well as in the Stillwater community, especially through philanthropy.

During the month of April, the fraternity held an event called Delt Dogs for the first time. Many philanthropy events benefit the people that enrich our lives but we seem to forget the animals that better our lives too,” says Wilson. The men of the fraternity were very excited to be hosting an event like this one. All of the money raised from the event went towards helping the Humane Society. The chapter hopes to host this event again next year. Wilson recognizes that while planning the event might take a lot of work, it is worth it because the event can help the entire community.

The fraternity takes pride in and aims to attend as many events hosted by Greek Life as they can. Members are also very active on campus and participate in events such as Into the Streets and the Big Event where they go into the Stillwater community and help its citizens.

The men of Delta Tau Delta continue to leave their mark at Oklahoma State every year. Their mission of “Committed to Lives of Excellence” drives them to go above and beyond in their endeavors.
The Delta Chi Fraternity was founded nationally on October 13, 1890. They recolonized at Oklahoma State in the fall of 2014. Their original local founding date was October 9th, 1948.

Delta Chi’s main philanthropy is the Jimmy V Foundation for Cancer Research. Since 2007, Delta Chi, from the national level, has been the lead contributor to the foundation.

The Jimmy V Foundation is based off the life of college basketball coach Jimmy Valvano. After being diagnosed with cancer at the young age of 46, Valvano dreamed of finding cures for cancer.

As a former coach, he began to recruit his team of family and friends to lead The Foundation in his quest to eradicate the disease. Valvano lost his battle with cancer, but has been the main inspiration behind The V Foundation raising more than $150 million since his death.

The V Foundation proudly awards 100 percent of direct cash donations to cancer research and related programs.

This semester the fraternity hosted a capture the flag tournament in late April. The tournament, was called “Capture the Cure,” and was sponsored by Progress 405 Apartments. Proceeds from the tournament went to the Jimmy V Foundation.

The Delta Chi fraternity is based on three core values. Those values include promoting friendship, developing character and advancing justice.

Delta Chi also embodies the qualities of an ideal collegiate student. The fraternity looks to provide incoming students with a support network around a college experience.

There are 11 basic expectations of a Delta Chi, ranging from striving for academic achievement to keeping fellow fraternity members accountable by the 11 expectations.

The OSU Delta Chi is still growing and has yet to reach their full potential with regards to campus life. They are focused on continuing to raise as much money for the Jimmy V Foundation as possible as well as looking to get more involved with the Greek events on-campus.
The men of FarmHouse had another great semester on Oklahoma State’s campus. The members of the organization strive everyday to uphold the legacy of excellence and have left its mark in the chapter and on campus.

FarmHouse has a passion for service, leadership, scholarship and brotherhood. The chapter was recognized for these qualities during the spring semester this past year when they received the Dean Troxel Award for Outstanding Fraternity along with the Thomas M. Keys Outstanding Pledge Class Award. Among these accomplishments FarmHouse alone had 10 members selected as this years Mortar Board Top Twenty Freshman in the Fall.

Members are extremely active on campus in organizations such as the Student Government Association, where one member was recently elected president, and other organizations including Freshman Representative Council, Junior Greek Life coordinators, executives in campus philanthropies and members involved in the respective college’s student council.

Volunteering has been a priority for all members of the fraternity. Many volunteer at the Stillwater Community through the local YMCA or at the Store House food pantry each week.

The men of FarmHouse have taken great effort to partake in other activities as well. They participated in Gamma Phi Beta’s Crescent Classic, Zeta Tau Alpha’s Special Olympics and Kappa Delta Shamrock along with other sorority philanthropy events.

The men of FarmHouse have continued to excel each semester on campus and have made their home on the south side of campus a place where many feel welcomed and appreciated. FarmHouse is the “Builder of Men” and the chapter will continue to grow physically, spiritually, intellectually and socially with progress marking their every step.
The Kappa Alpha Order was founded in 1865 on the principles on providing a way of life significant to the development of young men. On March 16, 1920 Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Oklahoma State University.

The fraternity is based on the knightly ideals of reverence, gentility, service, leadership, knowledge, perseverance and excellence.

Kappa Alpha’s philanthropy is Muscular Dystrophy Association, which is a nonprofit health agency dedicated to curing muscular dystrophy, ALS and related diseases by funding worldwide research.

Kappa Alpha held their main philanthropy event of the year in the fall and raised more than $2,000 for Muscular Dystrophy.

Kappa Alpha is also participating in OSU’s Relay for Life cancer awareness fundraiser. In an effort to not stop there, the fraternity has partnered with Alpha Beta Chi Army blades for a wounded warrior run this semester.

The fraternity held a blood drive this semester to raise more money for their philanthropies.

There are currently 81 active members of the Kappa Alpha Order at OSU. This past year, the fraternity ranked 16th on the OSU campus.

The Beta Xi chapter is the second oldest fraternity at OSU. They are a nationally award winning chapter, winning the Samuel Z. Ammen Award for chapter excellence in 2011 and 2012.

This award is presented to the top 10 percent of Kappa Alpha chapters that go above and beyond in philanthropy, community involvement and grades.

Kappa Alpha lives by the philosophy that acquiring knowledge and the development of character are the great goals of life. Through fellowship and brotherhood, Kappa Alpha seeks to teach young men to be leaders; to be brave, self reliant, and to continually strive to better themselves.

A familiar phrase to Kappa Alpha’s everywhere is: “Once a KA, always a KA.” The phrase embodies the fact that Kappa Alphas are brothers for life, and the Kappa Alpha experience is rewarding, memorable and unique.

The men of Kappa Alpha Order are looking forward to next year as they are paired with the women of Alpha Delta Pi for America’s Greatest Homecoming.
The Zeta Theta chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity was chartered on Oklahoma State University’s campus April 3rd, 1971. Although the elegant men of the Zeta Theta Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc. are relatively small in numbers at Oklahoma State University, they have shown their ability to make a huge impact. In 1981, the men of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc. nationally created a non-profit, tax exempt, publicly supported program called The Kappa Alpha Psi Foundation, which exists as a philanthropic arm of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc. In recent years the foundation has supported scholarships, after-school programs and national projects such as Habitat for Humanity.

They established an annual community service initiative which allowed them to incorporate Kappa Alpha Psi values and mottos.

This semester, Kappa Alpha Psi hosted Kappa Week. The week included community service events, and a black history program.
The men of Kappa Sigma have continued to uphold their values of fellowship, leadership, scholarship and service throughout the spring 2016 semester. The chapter’s passion to better the Stillwater community and the Oklahoma State campus has led to their success this semester.

The men of Kappa Sigma paired with the women of Phi Mu for Varsity Revue this semester. The pairing made the show, and was able to perform for the Stillwater community in late February. For Spring Sing, members paired with the women of Zeta Tau Alpha, and performed during mom’s weekend in April.

Kappa Sigma continues to raise awareness for the Military Heroes Campaign (MHC). The MHC honors and aids thousands of military veterans and their families throughout the United States. The campaign donates money to various non-profit organizations who advocate for servicemen and women. This semester Kappa Sigma held their annual Krazy Dayz, a philanthropy week benefiting the MHC. This year’s Krazy Dayz week included a date auction, car wash, barbecue, benefit night and banner competition. Members made it their goal to raise $5,000, the amount that has been raised for the past two years.

Kappa Sigma has 20 members graduating in May of this year. Several of these members plan to continue on to the graduate program. Furthermore, several of these men will be attending law school in the fall of 2016.

The men of Kappa Sigma continue to grow as leaders and men. Members look forward to another semester of achieving high academic performance, as well as outstanding leadership and service projects throughout the Stillwater community.
The Alpha Eta Zeta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha was founded at Oklahoma State University on September 15, 1917. A Christian based organization created with the purpose of bringing about students with good moral character, Lambda Chi promotes honorable friendships, cultivates intellectual excellence and secures the greatest advantages in college for its members.

“When I joined I felt like I belonged,” said Quenton Clay, the chapter president. “It gave me that sense of belonging that made me want to do what I can to help out the house and be involved in every way possible.”

The men of Lambda Chi take pride in their chapter’s campus involvement. According to Clay, each member is required to be in two campus organizations other than the fraternity itself. Lambda Chi is active throughout campus with many members taking part in intramurals, pre-vet club, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Big Event, Into the Streets and more.

It was another successful semester for the Alpha Eta Zeta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha at OSU.

The men of Lambda Chi Alpha hosted their annual White Rose Pageant, donating all proceeds in support of the National Breast Cancer Coalition.

The Alpha Eta Zeta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha is proud of their many accomplishments and hopes to see constant growth in the chapter’s philanthropic services in the years to come.

The men are thrilled to announce their pairing with the women of Alpha Chi Omega for Homecoming 2016 in the fall.

“We’re very excited,” Clay said. “It was very sad when we couldn’t participate so I know we’re all really looking forward to it.”
The newest pledge class of Phi Gamma Delta showed no hesitations in making their mark on Oklahoma State this semester. As 2015 came to a close, the men of Phi Gamma Delta felt accomplished, having finished 3rd in grades for the fall semester. Shane Hatfield, their new chapter advisor, along with 39 other young men, were initiated in February.

They received second place in Varsity Revue with the help of the women of Zeta Tau Alpha. In April, they performed in Spring Sing with the women of Kappa Alpha Theta. This semester they held their formal event, “Pig Dinner”. Nearly 200 undergraduates, graduates and alumni were in attendance. They also hosted a brotherhood crawfish boil in light of dead week.

During the summer, they will be sending their cabinet to Boston for a National Phi Gamma Delta Leadership Convention. Summer also indicates turning chapters for their graduating seniors. “Being a FIJI has been one of the most beneficial growing experiences of my life. I have learned persistence in everything I do. My friends and I will always cherish the memories FIJI has allowed us to share. Our time together is not for college days alone,” says president Stephen Cochran.

The chapter is ecstatic to see their new house closer to being finished each day. They are looking forward to the new memories that will fill their home, as well as the rest of this year.
The men of the Beta Kappa chapter of Phi Kappa Tau have had an exciting spring semester participating in philanthropy, community service, and they have seen their brotherhood grow.

This semester Phi Kappa Tau hosted Phi Tau Madness and raised $700 dollars for the Serious Fun Children’s Network, the network services children with serious illnesses and their families. Sorority and fraternity chapters participated in a 3-on-3 basketball tournament during Phi Kappa Tau Madness and Phi Kappa Tau donated $300 to the philanthropies of the winning participant chapters.

Phi Kappa Tau also participated in Big Even and other community service projects this semester with the women of Alpha Xi Delta. They enjoyed doing community service and getting to know wonderful women in the process.

Phi Kappa Tau’s strong and diverse brotherhood
The men of Pi Kappa Alpha were able to make a huge impact in the philanthropic world of Oklahoma State’s Greek life this semester. The fraternity was able to log 10,000 community service hours for their philanthropy that supported the Taylor Trudeau Cycle for Life Foundation. This is a foundation that raises awareness and funds research to find a cure for blood cancer in honor of Taylor Trudeau, a brother of the fraternity who passed away in 2008.

They were able to raise their support through their own event called “Welcome to the Jungle”. In this event, they allowed students to come and pet young, wild animals. The fraternity is also among those who are in the process of building a new house. The new house for Pi Kappa Alpha ill be at University and Monroe and is set to open in Spring 2017. They also plan to make an improvement as a house academically, and be among the houses with top GPA’s.
Pi Kappa Phi is a fraternity here at Oklahoma State that seeks to create a lifelong bond focused on leadership and service to others. The members accomplish this mission by supporting their philanthropy, The Ability Experience, an organization that benefits individuals with mental and physical disabilities. Their recipient it is owned and operated by the national Pi Kappa Phi organization, making it the only national fraternity to have founded its own philanthropy. Last semester the men hosted a Spread the Word to End the Word in order to aware others of the importance of not using retarded in a derogatory fashion.

They also helped out at the Stillwater Special Olympics and ran a 5k where they received sponsors to support The Ability Experience. This semester, on April 18-20, they are hosting a philanthropic event called Tour De Pi Kapp, a 48-hour bike-a-thon to raise awareness for people with disabilities. They will be on campus from noon Monday to noon Wednesday biking the whole way. Pi Kapp will take donations and sponsorships to provide monetary support for The Ability Experience. It is obvious the community outreach and philanthropic support is an important aspect in Pi Kappa Phi.

However, not only is it important to Pi Kappa Phi to make a difference in their community, it is part of their vision. These men value responsible citizenship, accountability, campus involvement, and personal responsibility, just to name a few.

There are currently 35 members in the Oklahoma State chapter. Pi Kappa Phi hopes to chart the chapter in the fall. October 10 marks the one-year anniversary of Pi Kappa Phi returning to campus. They are involved in rolling recruitment, which is where continuous open bidding throughout the year.

They are always looking to grow and hope to continue growing in the years to come.
The Oklahoma Mu Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon has had one fantastic semester. They hosted their spring philanthropy event, Cookies with a Cause, benefiting Stillwater United Way.

The men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon celebrated their Founder’s Day on March 5. This year, they welcomed over 150 alumni and celebrated 160 years of tradition and brotherhood with them. Alumni, graduating seniors and the new Executive Council were honored at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Phoenix Ball in April.

This summer, several members will be attending the National SAE Leadership Cruise. They are looking forward to getting to know the young men who will potentially join Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the fall. They cannot wait to see what the rest of 2016 brings the chapter.
Sigma Chi’s “Derby Days” philanthropy was held on the third week of April. This philanthropy was first conceived at UC Berkeley in 1916 and has kept growing in success through the decades. The competition consists of various sororities on campus participating in a variety of planned events throughout the week in order to earn enough points to be crowned Derby Days Champion.

All money raised goes toward the Huntsman Cancer Foundation. HCF focuses on understanding cancer at from its beginnings and translates it into more effective ways of treatment. Since 2005, Sigma Chi has raised over $2,349,600. Last year the men of Sigma Chi raised $15,000 and the goal for the fraternity this semester is to raise at least $20,000.
The Epsilon Epsilon chapter of Sigma Nu was founded in 1920 and has had a reputation of excellence ever since. This past semester has been a shining example of that excellence.

Academics is one of Sigma Nu’s top priorities. One of their biggest accomplishments over the past year they had 19 members make a 4.0 grade point average.

This semester the men of Sigma Nu were paired with the women of Chi Omega for Varsity Revue. The Men of Sigma Nu are excited to pair with the women of Kappa Kappa Gamma for Homecoming 2016.

Their philanthropy is ARC Group Homes in Bartlesville, Oklahoma. Every spring semester, they host Temple Classic, a sand volleyball tournament that takes place at Sigma Nu, to raise money for their cause. This year, they were thrilled to raise over $24,000 for ARC Group Homes!

Sigma Nu is looking forward to the next year and is eager to see what it will bring for their chapter.
The Oklahoma Alpha chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon is the second fraternity to be founded on Oklahoma State’s campus. Ever since, they’ve been making Oklahoma State proud with the outstanding resume they’ve been able to uphold.

Their spring philanthropy event, Safari, raised $4,750 for the Big Brothers Big Sisters foundation of Oklahoma. During Safari, members participated in their annual “Seuss’ Sig Ep” philanthropy event. Members visited Will Rogers elementary and read Dr. Seuss books to students. The chapter donated all the books they read to the school. They co-hosted Cokes for Kasey with the women of Gamma Phi Beta, an event benefitting the Kasey Waychoff foundation and scholarship fund.

Sigma Phi Epsilon has had many accomplishments over the course of the semester. They have eight new members in Junior Greek Life and one in President’s Leadership Council. The chapter won the RLC grant, a $5000 prize to renovate their house for academic purposes. Member Ridge Howell was elected as SGA Vice President, member Erik Williams was awarded Top 20 Freshman and member Aaron Cromer is an OSU Top Outstanding Senior. They also had 3 finalists for Outstanding Greek Members of the Year.

Along with standing out on campus, they stand out among the nation. At the annual Sigma Phi Epsilon conference, Carlson Leadership Academy, they took home multiple awards for the southwest division. They brought home the Chapter Excelsior Award for Finances, the J. Edward Zollinger Outstanding Senior Award, the Tragos Quest to Greece Scholar, Volunteer of the Year and the Volunteer Excellence Award. With all of these awards, they rank as one of the best Sigma Phi Epsilon chapters in the southwest.

The men of Sigma Phi Epsilon are proud to be a part of the Interfraternity Council here at OSU. They are very excited to see what next semester holds with their incoming pledge class, and they are excited to be paired with the women of Gamma Phi Beta for Homecoming 2016.
The men of the Iota Pi chapter of Sigma Pi had a successful semester and have donated to philanthropic causes, held brotherhood activities, and recruited more quality men into their fraternity.

Sigma Pi donated $400 to the Sean Vernon Feliciano Amazing Day Foundation, the foundation’s mission is to increase understanding of the warning signs of suicide and the symptoms of emotional disorders among college students. The men of Sigma Pi all around the country support this organization.

This semester, Sigma Pi has increased their brotherhood activities. They went on numerous campouts. They watched the Super Bowl, WWE, and March Madness together. The members also enjoyed going on golf outings multiple times. For their chapter retreat this semester, they went Go-Karting at Pole Position in Oklahoma City.

In the future, Sigma Pi is looking forward to recruitment as they are on their quest for excellence. They are also driven by their desire to achieve academic excellence. The men of Sigma Pi want to continue to recruit men who want to join their tight nit brotherhood and join in their efforts.
Sigma Tau Gamma is an up and coming chapter on Oklahoma State’s campus. They increased their efforts in philanthropy this semester. They participated in the local Polar Plunge and went on to participate in the Tulsa Polar Plunge. Members volunteered to put on the event and some even took the plunge themselves. Their national philanthropy is Special Olympics and members of Sigma Tau Gamma are currently planning an event to be held in the fall.

Sigma Tau Gamma welcomed new members this semester. The chapter is currently the largest un-housed fraternity on campus and has plans to build a house within the coming years. Out of the 24 fraternities on campus Sigma Tau placed 12th in grades for the 2014-2015 school year, which is a great accomplishment for a house which has only been on campus for a few years.

The men of Sigma Tau Gamma have made it a priority to be involved in sorority philanthropy events. In the spring semester they had teams participate in Gamma Phi Beta’s Crescent Classic and Zeta Tau Alpha’s Olympics. They also had two teams participate in Kappa Delta’s Shamrock softball tournament where one team went on to play in the quarterfinals.
The men of Tau Kappa Epsilon had an exciting spring semester. They hosted the “24 Hour Jumpathon” and proceeds went to St. Jude’s children’s hospital.

The event was in April and members of Tau Kappa Epsilon jumped on trampolines for twenty-four hours. The event was held on library lawn and donations were taken throughout the event.

Tau Kappa Epsilon members also participated in philanthropy events throughout campus. Member, Jacob Black, won Zeta Tau Alpha’s Mr. Fraternity pageant and helped raise money for breast cancer awareness.

Tau Kappa Epsilon looks forward to continuing their participation in philanthropic efforts and are looking forward to their future as Greeks at Oklahoma State University.
The men of Theta Chi at Oklahoma State University had an exciting spring semester. They participated in philanthropic efforts, focused on academics, and won Spring Sing.

Theta Chi is new to campus, but is quickly becoming involved. They plan to host their first philanthropy event next semester called “GI Theta Chi”, it will raise money for the United Service organization.

Theta Chi adopted Airport Road and they clean the entire road every semester. They also volunteered for the pan county youth center actions fundraiser.

They require every member to have 10 documented hours of community service every year.
For more information check out www.gogreek.okstate.edu/recruitment-overview
FRATERNITY RECRUITMENT

THE TIE THAT BINDS US

For more information check out www.gogreek.okstate.edu/interfraternity-council-recruitment
This semester fraternity and sorority members participated in two shows, Spring Sing and Varsity Revue. Chapters pair together and the casts practice for months.

They perform the shows to raise money for philanthropy. In addition each cast hosted their own philanthropy events to raise money.

Each cast also had a letter campaign to encourage people to donate and attend the shows. Spring Sing raised $23,100 for Coaches Vs. Cancer

Varsity Revue raised $28,000 for the Stillwater area United Way.
THE STAFF

EXECUTIVE EDITORS

Chance Imhoff
Emma

EDITORS

Stephanie Rojo
Natalie Zotto

WRITERS

Jackson Boland
Cam Close
Scout Deere
Lauren Hall
Emmy Holland
Asheigh Stein
Madeline West
Cooper Westland
Amy Woods
Sarah Zobrist

GRAPHIC DESIGNERS

Andria Belmares
Rebecca Hauser

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Gabe Gudgel
Elise